

Theology Threads | Episode 8 Notes | The Ultimate Evidence: Part One

Summary

In the beginning of a two-part discussion on the ultimate evidence of Christianity in our lives, Dr. Brian Jenkins and Dr. Troy Jones start with what it means to really love God. They cover Taco Bell churches, auditing the spiritual fruit of your life, what real obedience is, and they even end with a mini hymn sing of classics "When I Survey the Wonderous Cross" and "I Surrender All". Come back next episode to hear the rest of the discussion on "The Ultimate Evidence". You can email us with questions at hello@theothreads.com.

Reflection Questions

From 16:28 to 18:40, there is a discussion about how to audit yourself and see if you are really fully living out loving God to the fullest extent as a Christian. Take some time to listen and reflect on these questions, maybe ask others in your life if they see these things in you.

Using the definition of obedience as caring about the things God cares about, reflect on obedience in your own life. Are you obeying God? Are you obeying those whose authority you are under?

If you could share one concept or point addressed in Episode 8, what would it be? Who would you share it with?

For further learning connected to this episode, check out these resources.

Read Matthew 22:34-40 <https://www.bible.com/bible/59/MAT.22.ESV>

Listen to "I Surrender All"

I Surrender All

Check out Pastor Troy Jones message on Grace and Truth.

John: Heaven on Earth | Grace and Truth | Pastor Troy Jones

Check out Pastor Troy Jones Five Values

View Pastor Troy's Five Values | 50+ Anchors

