

Theology Threads | Episode 6 Notes | We Broke It

"The cross is the restoration of God's intended reality."

"The work of Christ is based in the love of God for His Creation."

Summary

This week, in Episode 6 of Theology Threads, Dr. Brian Jenkins and Pastor Miles Langrock reach the penultimate episode in our series on the four pillars of Christianity, with Jesus Fixes It. Our host's discuss why threads need greater context, how Jesus died for the worst parts of you, define some academic theological terms, and reference C.S. Lewis yet again. To follow along in this episode series, be sure to watch God Made It, We Broke It, and continue with the next episode, The Church Shares It. You can email us with questions at hello@theothreads.com.

Reflection Questions

Grace is only a gift you must receive, not earn. Has receiving the grace of God through the work of the Cross been something you have struggled accepting?

How has the restoration accomplished by the work of the Cross changed your life? What has Jesus restored in you?

If you could share one concept or point addressed in Episode 6, what would it be? Who would you share it with?
